RENEWING FOR THE FUTURE

CORONAVIRUS RELIEF FOR SMALL BUSINESSES

The federal government offers relief to businesses hurt by the coronavirus pandemic. Provided through the Small Business Administration (SBA), these programs help maintain your operations. You may be eligible if you have fewer than 500 employees or if you operate as a private nonprofit.

PAYCHECK PROTECTION PROGRAM

The SBA guarantees short-term loans up to $10 million to eligible businesses. The loans are based on your payroll and you apply for them at your bank or credit union. You may use the loan for payroll, rent, mortgage interest and utilities. The loan can be forgiven if your business maintains payroll for eight weeks at employees' normal salary levels and uses the loan for qualifying expenses.

ECONOMIC INJURY DISASTER LOAN

The Economic Injury Disaster Loan provides longer-term working capital loans of up to $2 million to qualifying businesses. The loans carry low interest rates and have other favorable terms. The funds cover operating expenses and obligations you otherwise could have met in a non-disaster economy. The SBA issues these loans directly.

ECONOMIC INJURY DISASTER LOAN EMERGENCY ADVANCE

When applying for an economic injury disaster loan, you can request a loan advance of up to $10,000. The advance does not have to be repaid even if your business is denied a loan. Quickly accessible, this advance provides immediate economic relief and helps maintain business continuity. Use it for expenses including payroll, employee sick leave, rent or utilities.
